- 2:05 am The Seventies - Terrorism At Home & Abroad - Terrorism as we know it was essentially born in the 1970s. From the abduction and murder of eleven Israeli athletes at the 1972 Munich Olympics to the murder of Lord Louis Mountbatten, a member of the British royal family, in 1979, the 1970s witnessed a horrific parade of kidnappings, hijackings and bombings. The Baader Meinhoff Group, the Red Army Brigade, Black September, the IRA, the SLA, the Weather Underground, Carlos 'the Jackal', and others dominated the headlines throughout the decade. Occasionally there was good news – Israel's successful rescue of hostages at Entebbe, the safe return of Patty Hearst – but more often these incidents resulted in the loss of innocent life. We'll examine the terrorists, their supposed causes and their victims in this episode. (S .1 Ep.6) (From the US) (Documentary Series) (Rpt) M(A) CC

- 7:30 pm The Six Wives Of Henry VIII With Lucy Worsley - The story of Henry VIII's six wives is simultaneously the most and least famous in English history. Historian Lucy Worsley explores the lives of the six wives by witnessing the world they lived in for herself. Lucy catapults back five centuries to do what she does best: convey the living, breathing history of one of the most emotional and dramatic stories from England's past. Young Henry VIII and his first wife, the Spanish princess Katherine of Aragon, were a passionate couple. Lucy follows Katherine through her emotional and physical struggles to give Henry the heir he desperately needs to continue his own dynasty. After five pregnancies, four still births and one infant death, Katherine finally has a baby who lives - but it's a girl. (Part 1 of 3) (From the UK) (Documentary Series) (Class.
