- 4:30 pm Wild Britain - October to December (Autumn) - Wild Britain is an enchanting series that reveals why Britain's climate is so unique and why the country's relationship with its wildlife is so enduring and so special. In the final episode, the fading sun brings an energy change to Britain and powerful storms batter the shores. The trees go dormant, but not before a final burst of colour. For animals, the shortening days are a cue to act: sika deer battle for supremacy while dormice curl up for a winter snooze. Seals risk life or death in the stormy seas, while on land there are some who thrive like earthworms, fungi and mysterious slime moulds. Dark December allows the first snow to fall and the country transforms into a winter wonderland. (Part 4 of 4) (From the UK) (Documentary) (Rpt) G CC

- 8:30 pm The Missing Evidence: 9/11 - *9/11: Secret Explosions In The Tower - On September 11 2001, terrorist attacks in New York resulted in the collapse of World Trade Centre Towers. While the world focused on the organisation responsible, scientists tackled a more fundamental question: why the towers collapsed at all? After four years, the official conclusions leave many unsatisfied. Both buildings were designed to survive the impact of a commercial airliner and the fireproofed steel structures should have survived the fires that followed - yet within two hours both towers had collapsed. In addition, video footage of a molten metal pouring from the damaged floors and eyewitness reports of explosions before the collapse were not addressed fully - fuelling conspiracies of a government plot to destroy the towers and drag America into a war on terror.
