2018-07-15	1930	History	First Civilisations	New Episode Religion	01	2	Religion has always been the soulmate of civilisation - they are meant for each other. This connection was first made in Ancient Egypt, which is still the longest lasting civilisation in world history. All civilisations since have borrowed something of the blueprint established by the Egyptians. Remarkably, it is possible to trace the birth of organised religion to a specific site known as Nabta Playa in the Egyptian desert. Here, 8,000 years ago, herders built stone circles and erected megaliths as a place of worship. Archaeologist and series consultant, Jeff Rose believes the site was a prototype church where people tried to understand their place within the ever-changing rhythms of the natural world. From badly wired eyeballs, to inefficient knee joints, these flaws cause illnesses and premature ageing. But recent scientific developments promise a brave new future. Gene editing is fast becoming a reality and bionic modifications are transforming medicine. Within decades, we could have the capability to radically re-engineer our biology. What if we designed the perfect human body from scratch? What would it look like? And how could it change the way we live?	UNITED KINGDOM	English-100	2017							Y
