2019-09-09	1410	History	Soundtracks: Songs That Defined History	Assassination Of Martin Luther King, Jr., The	01	1	The death of Martin Luther King Jr. marked a turning point in the civil rights movement, a moment of reckoning for African Americans in the United States. After the mourning, the community gathered its strength to continue King's fight, inspired by the fiery protest of Nina Simone, the black power anthems of James Brown, and the extraordinary voice of Aretha Franklin. The continued struggle for civil rights has been a long and uneven battle since 1968, but the spirit of resistance has been kept alive in the music, from Stevie Wonder's campaign to establish a Martin Luther King Holiday to Kendrick Lamar's searing protest song that became an anthem for the Black Lives Matter movement. The music in this episode both celebrates the strength and solidarity of the African American experience while reminding us how far we still have to go.	USA	English-100	2017	RPT				Y

2019-09-10	1400	History	Soundtracks: Songs That Defined History		September 11th		01	2	Explore the music tied to some of the most iconic moments in history - from the March on Washington to the riots at Stonewall, the moon landing to Hurricane Katrina - music has played an integral part in celebrating, criticising, and amplifying seismic events in collective history. September 11, 2001 forever lives in infamy for New Yorkers and all Americans. Billy Joel's 'New York State of Mind' and Sister Sledge's 'We Are Family' took on heightened new meaning of camaraderie. But the tragedy that united the country quickly divided it. Country music took centre stage as the politically charged music of the moment - with patriotism in the case of Brooks and Dunn, or in a pro-war message in the case of Toby Keith. When the Dixie Chicks found themselves caught in the crossfire after upsetting their fan base, it became clear that the wounds of 9/11 weren't quick to heal.	USA	English-100	2017	RPT	M	a l	Y	Y
