| 2017-09-24 | 1730 | History | Neil Oliver: Skye's Band Of Brothers | Machine Gun And Skye's Band Of Brothers, The | 1 | 0 | In the summer of 1914, a company of Cameron Highlanders left Portree and sailed off to war. On the battlefields of France, these raw recruits would meet the Maxim machine gun - invented in London, and capable of firing a hellish 666 rounds per minute. The German army deployed these weapons with mathematical efficiency. Neil Oliver examines the development of these ruthless, impersonal weapons, and the legacy they left in one Hebridean community. | UNITED KINGDOM | English-100 | 2014 | RPT | PG | | Y | Y |

| 2017-09-24 | 1930 | History | The Ascent Of Civilization | New Episode Germanic Peoples, The | 02 | 2 | There is barely a country in Europe that can't look back on Germanic roots, though there has never been one unified people. The term 'Germanic' actually refers to a number of tribes and clans that lived in Central and Northern Europe from the sixth century BC. Gaius Julius Caesar is said to have used it when talking about the Gallic war. However, the Romans were full of contempt for the Germanic peoples, Tacitus calling their home a hideous blood-curdling place full of dark woods and swamplands. | GERMANY | German-100 | 2016 | | PG | v | Y | Y |
| 2017-09-24 | 2030 | History | Soundtracks: Songs That Defined History | New Episode Space Race | 01 | 5 | On July 20, 1969 an estimated 600 million people all over the world watched astronauts Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin set foot on the moon for the first time. The moonwalk inspired musicians from David Bowie and the Byrds to Parliament-Funkadelic and Sun Ra to imagine a cosmic future for mankind. However, once the Cold War space race had been won, popular interest in space exploration waned rapidly – as reflected in songs by Elton John and Gil Scott-Heron. In December 1972, NASA launched its final manned mission to the moon, and we have never gone back since. Almost half a century after the moon landing, while our deep yearning to explore the universe lives on in the realm of art and music, its most profound legacy may be the perspective it gave us on our own planet and who we are as a species. | USA | English-100 | 2017 | | M | | Y | |
| 2017-09-24 | 2120 | History | Soundtracks: Songs That Defined History | New Episode Battle Of The Sexes | 01 | 7 | The famous tennis match between Billie Jean King and Bobby Riggs was a galvanising moment for the women's movement. Billie Jean's win was an affirmation to all the women who felt underestimated as simply mothers and housewives. The music of the 1960s and '70s, from Helen Reddy to Leslie Gore to Aretha Franklin was also a kind of subversive force in delivering to women messages of strength and empowerment. The sexual revolution ushered in more provocative music that gave women permission to let loose; Loretta Lynn's 'The Pill' was an outright ode to the wonders of contraception and how freeing it was. Feminism in music has taken many forms, just as the women's movement itself has waxed and waned over the decades. But from Pat Benatar to Salt-n-Pepa to Katy Perry, each generation of young women has found strength and solidarity in female artists who have literally given them a voice. | USA | English-100 | 2017 | | M | | Y | |

No one had ever attempted to brave the Grand Canyon and its many dangerous rapids until a band of Wild West pioneers took it on in 1869. Now, a new group of nine men attempt to navigate all 450 kilometres of the Grand Canyon in the manner of the original expedition, in antique-style wooden rowing boats more fit for a museum than this wild white water. The first episode takes the explorers through the beautiful, arid and dangerous wilds of north Arizona. | UNITED KINGDOM | English-100 | 2014 | RPT | | | Y | Y | |

Railways created the great cities, gave Britain its National Health Service and the Football League, helped win wars and emancipated women. In the 1820s, a funny looking machine was pulling coal five miles along a primitive track between a mine near Newcastle Mine and the river Tyne. The locomotive, Puffing Billy, changed everything. Driving Puffing Billy himself, Chris tracks the railways that built Britain, uncovering the forgotten heroes of the early railway age. | UNITED KINGDOM | English-100 | 2017 | | | | Y | Y |
