| 2017-11-26 | 2030 | Culture & Society | The Nineties | New Episode | Terrorism | 01 | 7 | Beginning with the stand-offs at Ruby Ridge, Idaho and Waco, Texas, politically-inspired violence plagued America throughout the 1990s. CIA headquarters in Virginia and the World Trade Centre in New York were sites of terrorist attacks. The anti-abortion group the Army of God conducted a murderous campaign that included planting a bomb at the 1996 Olympics. The Unabomber, Ted Kaczynski, terrorised the nation with his lethal mailings. In the worst domestic terrorist attack to date, Timothy McVeigh killed 168 fellow Americans, including 19 children, when he bombed a federal office building in Oklahoma City. In a horrific attempt to copycat this tragedy, two Colorado high school students staged a massacre of their own on the anniversary of both Waco and Oklahoma City. And it was in 1998 that most Americans first learned of Osama bin Laden and his newly formed organisation, Al Qaeda. | USA | English-100 | 2016 | | | | | | | Y |
| 2017-11-26 | 2120 | Culture & Society | The Nineties | Final Episode | Race Relations | 01 | 8 | Race relations are a perpetual and prominent part of the American political and cultural conversation, and never more so than in the 1990s. Beginning with the unavoidable racial overtone of the Clarence Thomas/Anita Hill hearings, the '90s saw a succession of individuals and events - Al Sharpton and the Crown Height riots, Rodney King and the LA riots, O.J. Simpson and his murder trial – that exposed how raw race relations in America remained. New York elected its first black mayor (David Dinkins) and Louisiana nearly elected a member of the Klu Klux Klan as governor (David Duke). LA street gangs exerted cultural influence over music, movies and fashion. Even two of President Clinton's chief legislative achievements, The Crime Bill of 1994 and the Welfare Reform bill of 1996 were laden with racial politics. Progress was made in America's struggle with racial equality but a price was paid. | USA | English-100 | 2016 | | M | | | | | Y |

Single guy Andy is looking to lose his trans-virginity. 51-year-old window-cleaner Mark and 23-year-old Lorenna are one of a tiny number of British trans-relationship couples to get married. Can these complex and fragile relationships last? | UNITED KINGDOM | English-100 | 2015 | RPT | M | I n s | | Y | Y | |
| 2017-11-26 | 2310 | Sexuality | Kinky Business | | Kinky Business | | 0 | Exploring the bizarre and highly lucrative business of bespoke online fetish video production, this documentary follows a growing number of producers as they make their fortune delivering other people's fantasies on tape. From eye crossing fetishists, to balloon and bubblegum poppers, roll neck-shamers and ear diddling enthusiasts, the world is in the grip of a secret fetish obsession, with an army of amateur filmmakers ready to cater to our every quirky need. | 2017-11-26 | 2410 | Culture & Society | Seduced And Abandoned | | Seduced And Abandoned | | 0 | Spirited, highly amusing and endearingly shambolic, James Toback's "Seduced and Abandoned" seeks to represent an "uncategorisable" work about film, money, Cannes and death, roughly in that order. It's a documentary that tracks the writer-helmer himself and co-conspirator Alec Baldwin as they schlep around the 2012 Cannes Film Festival and beyond, trying to hustle up coin for a loose remake of "Last Tango in Paris," and meeting other filmmakers, financiers, studio execs, and stars along the way. Ultimately, the pic offers a timely, melancholy-tinged tribute to those fighting quixotically to make enduring, ambitious art rather than revenue for revenue's sake. | USA | English-100 | 2013 | RPT | MA | I | | Y | | |
| 2017-11-26 | 2600 | Drama | On The Path | MOVIE | | | 0 | Director Jasmila Zbanic explores the complex influences of Islam in contemporary Bosnia-Herzegovina. Meanwhile, 11-year-old Isra and her family group of 16 people are approaching the Serbian border. They're shocked by the total chaos that greets them and are forced to spend hours in the mud and pouring rain with no certainty that they'll be able to continue their journey to Germany. | UNITED KINGDOM | English-100 | 2016 | RPT | M | a l | | Y | Y | |

Built on the Brunt Ice Shelf, it sits atop a massive slab of ice that extends far beyond the Antarctic shoreline. The ice is breaking apart, and just six kilometres from the station is a ginormous crevasse, which threatens to separate Halley from the rest of the continent, setting the $48 million base adrift on a massive iceberg. Halley needs to move, but this is probably the toughest moving job on Earth, and the team of 90 who have been tasked with the mission aren't just architectural or engineering experts. They're plumbers, mechanics and farmers from across the UK and beyond - ordinary men and women on an extraordinary adventure. Embedded with the team, BBC filmmaker Natalie Hewit spent three months living on the ice, following these everyday heroes as they battle in the most extreme environment on Earth to move this vital polar research station. | UNITED KINGDOM | English-100 | 2017 | | | | | Y |
