2020-06-19	1810	Health, Science & Technology	Seconds From Disaster		Mountain Tsunami	05	2	In 1960, construction of Europe's tallest dam is completed in the Vajont Valley in Northern Italy - the jewel in the crown of an ambitious hydro-electric generation scheme. But as the new reservoir fills, a vast section of mountainside is dislodged and creeps toward the lake. The power company know the landslide has the potential to cause a devastating tsunami if it hits the water at speed, so they develop a plan to ease the landslide down by adjusting the level of the lake. For three years there are no problems, but in October 1963, the landslide suddenly accelerates - and slams into the reservoir as fast as a Formula One car - creating a tsunami 200 meters high which overtops the dam and swamps the valley below - killing more than 2000 people. 2020-06-19	2030	Sexuality	Do Communists Have Better Sex?		Do Communists Have Better Sex	00	0	Sex, studies have shown, was better for women in East Germany than in West Germany. They had sex more often and more frequently had orgasms. Why? This film tries to find reasons. During the Second World War women in both the eastern and western parts of Germany took on the work of their absent menfolk. At the end of the war the returning soldiers claimed back their old jobs and most women were forced to return to domestic life. As the majority of the men, however, chose to settle in the West, there was a shortage of workers in the East, and the women there stayed in the workforce.	GERMANY	German-100	2006	RPT	MA	a n s	Y
