- 5:30 pm Khrushchev Does America - In 1959, at the height of the Cold War, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev embarked on a two-week PR tour across the US. Americans emerged for a glimpse of a Communist dictator visiting their landmarks and experiencing local hospitality. Greeted by angry mobs and celebrity gawkers, Khrushchev turned on his charm and quick wit. By the time he hit the West Coast, the US was enthralled by his presence, chasing him along the whistle-stops of his tour. As current East-West relations become strained, this is a timely reflection on super power maneuvering. Playing with didactic documentary form, Tim Toidze weaves the humour, hysteria and surreal qualities of this state visit into a profile of the political propaganda that permeated both sides of the Iron Curtain. (From France, in English) (Documentary) PG CC Premiere
- 6:30 pm SBS World News - Up-to-date reports and analysis of the major national and international news stories of the day in Australia's only world news service. (An SBS Production) CC
- 7:35 pm Rome: The World's First Superpower - Caesar - The story of the greatest Roman of them all - Julius Caesar. His own memoirs guide us through his journey from bankrupt civil servant to invincible general. At Alesia, in France, we see the giant ramparts and infra-red images that show the enormous scale of his military campaign. In Jersey, a horde of ancient coins reveals his insatiable lust for money. And in Italy, on the banks of the Rubicon, we relive the moment Caesar sealed Rome's fate by declaring the civil war that tore the Republic apart forever... and gave birth to a superpower. (Part 4 of 4) (From the UK) (Documentary) PG(A) CC Final
- 8:30 pm Stonehenge Empire - This documentary reveals the people who built Stonehenge, along with their sophistication, ambition and power. A lost civilisation, rediscovered and redefined, based on exclusive access to the biggest archaeological survey ever undertaken of Stonehenge's sacred landscape. - 7:30 pm Is Your Brain Male Or Female? - Dr Michael Mosley and Professor Alice Roberts investigate if male and female brains really are wired differently. New research suggests that the connections in men and women's brains follow different patterns - patterns which may explain typical forms of male and female behaviour. But are these patterns innate, or are they shaped by the world around us? Using a team of human lab rats and a troop of barbary monkeys, Michael and Alice test the science and challenge old stereotypes. They ask whether this new scientific research will benefit both men and women - or whether it could drive the sexes even further apart. (From the UK) (Documentary) G CC Premiere/Michael Mosley Season

Monday April 27th, 2015

- 8:30 pm Tea And Coffee Trails With Simon Reeve - *The Tea Trail - In this 2-part series, adventurer and journalist Simon Reeve uncovers the stories behind the nation's favourite drinks. While we drink millions of cups of the stuff each day, how many of us know where our tea actually comes from? From Mobassa, Kenya, Simon follows the tea trail, through the epic landscapes of Kenya and Uganda and learns that the industry that supplies our everyday cuppa is not immune to the troubles of the continent - poverty, low wages and child labour. (From the UK) (Documentary series) (Rpt) PG CC
- 9:30 pm Strip The Cosmos - *Expedition Mars - This program uses CGI animation to strip apart our cosmic neighbour - Mars - tearing off swirling dust storms, frozen ice caps, and giant volcanoes - layer by layer - to explore the secrets that lie beneath the Red Planet. Mars has been a tough training ground, with half the missions sent there ending in failure. Swirling dust storms, deadly radiation, and arctic temperatures await the first, pioneering, astronauts. Despite the dangers, space agencies around the world race to launch the first human mission. So why explore this seemingly cold, barren wasteland? Mars was once a lot like earth. This episode visits ancient riverbeds, polar ice caps, and giant volcanic regions, to find out what went wrong for this alien planet. (Ep.4) (From the UK) (Documentary) G CC New Episode
