The events of the next tension-filled 13 days, known as the Cuban Missile Crisis, struck fear across the globe as the world teetered on the edge of nuclear disaster. The fate of the planet ultimately lay in the hands of three powerful men: Khrushchev, Castro and Kennedy. Cuban Missile Crisis: Three Men Go to War explores the roles the three leaders played during some of the most dangerous moments in history, set against the human stories of ordinary men in the field such as the Soviet man who shot down the U2 piloted by U.S. Air Force Major Rudolf Anderson on the worst day of the crisis. The head of the world's largest bank is Jewish. This film examines how the myth of shadowy 'international bankers' ruling the world came about and considers studies that purport to show that Jews are wealthier than average (at least in America) and even genetically predisposed to become successful financially. This obscure wilderness, of no apparent strategic value, was the scene of Winston Churchill's lonely stand against the seemingly overwhelming forces of the German-Italian fascist Axis. To tell this compelling story Jonathan Dimpleby travels to all the key locations, among them the Cabinet War Rooms deep beneath Whitehall, the vast bunker in Poland where Hitler plotted his campaigns, the tunnels under Malta where civilians sheltered from the Nazi bombs and the Brenner Pass where Hitler and Mussolini met to decide the world's fate. - 1:55 am Pagans And Pilgrims - Shrines - Presenter Ifor ap Glyn explores the wealth of Britain's extraordinary holy places on a pilgrimage that spans almost 2,000 years of history. Travelling across the breadth of the UK, Ifor will uncover the stories behind many of our most famous sites, explaining the myths and legends of some of Britain's most sacred places. This week, Ifor sets out to understand the appeal of Shrines. For those outside the Catholic and Orthodox church there is something vaguely unsettling about Shrines. How can venerating the bones of a dead person bring you closer to God? From the unlikely starting point of Marc Bolan's roadside shrine in Barnes Ifor embarks upon perhaps his most surprising journey.
